It is said that Bryan has reduced the price of his speeches to $100 per night. This is a great drop from $1,500, but it is only another example of the operation of the law of supply and demand.

The Lexington "Leader" publishes a clever cartoon representing the free silver rooster singing "This Wheat Buy and Buy." It is evident, however, that the rise of wheat and the fall of silver has put a severe strain on the vocal chords of the Democratic rooster.

Mr. Bryan and his followers should bear in mind the fact that there will not be a general rise in wages until there are no unemployed laborers. That a large number of corporations have voluntarily increased the wages of their employees or have yielded to demands for an increase, show that labor is getting scarce and that business is much more profitable and times more prosperous. The New York "Journal" (silver Democratic) says that out of 100,000 able-bodied laborers out of work and dependent on some form of charity last winter, not 10,000 are now idle. It also says that while wages have not been raised, the prices of goods are fatter by as much as 10 per cent. When there are no unemployed workers, the wages of the employed will advance steadily in obedience to the law of supply and demand. Because of the large number of idle people, wages do not advance as soon as farm products and other commodities.

It is several months since the report was current on the success of L. F. Taylor, the Populist, had been chosen in the Democratic primary for commonwealth's attorney. There was chagrin and disgust on the countenances of the great unfettered, and curses were not only loud, but deep. It was openly declared by many that they never would vote for him, while others began to cast about for some one to beat him. How the Pop-

VOTE COUNTED

Chairman Hartley, of Marshall, and Mr. Leake, of Paducah, do it.

Chairman Ed C. Leigh did not reach here in time.—Mr. Taylor Talks Like He's Mad.

New candidates have taken the road to Democratic primary, and there are imminent indications of an interesting struggle.

The successful candidates are very well satisfied with the way everything turned out, but the defeated candidates, who are in the majority, are not so much so.

The election law says that the counting board shall meet between the hours of 10 and 12 on the third day following the election and canvass the returns. The board in this case was Chairman Hartley, of the Marshall county judicial committee, and Chairman Ed C. Leigh, of the McCracken county committee.

Chairman Ed C. Leigh happened to be in Owensboro, and there was no possible chance for him to reach Paducah in time to count the vote under the time specified by law.

Chairman Hartley arrived in the city this morning and after a brief conference it was decided to risk it, and Mr. Chas. M. Leake, chairman of the city committee, who informed a Star reporter this afternoon, will be substituted for Mr. Leigh, and the two met at the court house between the hours named, and counted the vote. None of the candidates were notified—not that they should have been legally—but several of them who wanted to be were very hot in the collar when they ascertained that they had been notified, claiming that common courtesy should have prompted the canvassers to notify them.

The vote, as determined officially, is as follows:

Lightfoot, 852
Taylor, 492
SENIOR.
Edgington, 341
Ferguson, 1136
Hobbs, 548

This gives Mr. Bradshaw a majority of 41 over Taylor, and Husbands 140 over Bishop.

Mr. Taylor this afternoon said he would notify Mr. Hartley that unless the vote was counted legally he would prosecute him under the law. He said furthermore that Mr. Leigh had no right to delegate his authority as chairman to Mr. Leake, and that if he turned out that the count was irregular or unfair he would contest the election and do it hard.

Mr. Leigh telegraphed from Owensboro that he would be here tonight to count the returns, indicating that he deems his presence necessary.

THE COURT.
The court house has undergone a wonderful transformation within two days. It had been all but deserted for several months on the street, when circuit court began. Today, however, it is much livelier than yesterday, and the court yard was filled with lawyers, witnesses and jurors.

Circuit court itself knuckled down to business today, the first thing being the opening of the campaign of the petition.

The grand jury this morning began the tedious labor of hearing evidence in the civil cases, which will likely consume no little time, probably two or three weeks.

The petit jury is composed of the following:

W. H. Arnold, Ben F. Danboush, R. T. Nelson, George F. Kroll, W. T. Kirkpatrick, A. M. Anderson, Jas. Torian, W. J. Brown, B. F. Wilcox, Jas. A. Gimes, Henry E. Johnson, Ollie Clark, J. R. Hudson, G. A. Moore, Joe D. Porter, John W. Young, A. M. Johnson, J. B. Deany, Henry Childers, F. J. Riddington, Louis Kolb, E. S. Melton, Joseph Purchase and Henry Seaton.

The case against Fred Conners, charged with maliciously striking Will Adley, was reset for the 16th day.

The case of the commonwealth against Ed Harrison, colored, charged with setting up a game, is now on trial.

Suits Filled.
Jessie Massie today filed suit against A. E. and A. J. Seaton, of the county, for $243.93 on a note. They asked an attachment on the defendant's property, and it was served by Deputy Sheriff Uterback.

The Holyoke Cured and Paper company today won't suit against John H. Zola & Co. for $76.00.

DOGS SAVE TWO LIVES.
Noble Conduct of Two of J. Flannery's Dogs.
Rescue Two Women from Water Graves and Even Bring Their Overboarded Boat to Shore.

Never was Oliver's assertion that the dog is the most useful conquest ever made by man better exemplified than the other morning, when two of the faithful animals rushed into the waters of the Hudson at Highland Falls and dragged to life and safety two human beings, who but for their assistance might now be at the bottom of the river. The dogs, whose names will figure in the annals of life-savers, belong to J. Pierpont Morgan, the millionaire banker and railroad magnate.

Seton Hero and Rufford, Ormond were brought from England several years ago by Mr. Morgan. Early in the morning Superintendent Armstrong, of Mr. Morgan's Cragston kennels, and his family started for the stone quarries across the river. At Morgan's landing a boat was in the boat, but they were across the river, and a lady visitor were in the party. When the women and child were seated in the boat Seton Hero and Rufford Ormond, the dogs, began to beg vigorously in dog language to be taken along.

Mr. Armstrong did not want to take them, but Mrs. Armstrong pleaded that they be allowed to go. They were put one in each end of the boat, but they kept wanting to get together. The boat had scarcely left the pier when a fish jumped in the water and Rufford Ormond dived headlong after it. In doing so he struck the boat and spilled the occupants in 50 feet of water. Mr. Armstrong had the child in his arms and immediately struck out for the landing. The moment the women began to scream the dogs swam toward them. Mrs. Armstrong clung to Seton Hero and her companion seized Rufford Ormond. The strong collies then started for the shore, Armstrong had in the meantime landed the child safely. He plunged in again, however, and went to Seton Hero's assistance. The dog struck to his post and soon had his charge in shallow water. Rufford Ormond was having a hard time with the other woman. When Mrs. Armstrong was placed on the bank with her baby Armstrong went to Rufford Ormond's assistance. The visiting woman was brought to shore faintly. The dog had seized her by the shoulder and the marks of his teeth were indented in the skin. The dogs, at Armstrong's command, swam down the river after the overturned boat and brought it ashore.

As there seems to be a wrong impression prevailing about the price that will be charged for lights we give below the schedule that will prevail after the first of September. A careful perusal will convince you that the prices charged are reasonable and a great deal less than are charged in other cities.

Special prices for over thirty lights. Parties preferring to use Meter will be furnished with prices and any other information by calling at company's office.
